From left: Shelly Bailey; Superior Court Judge Scott Minter

Whitfield County, GA - The Conasauga Mental Health Court celebrated the achievements of participant Shelley Bailey during the recent graduation ceremony. Since its inception in July 2018, the Mental Health Court program has offered individuals with diagnosed mental illnesses a voluntary opportunity to address their conditions while assuming responsibility for their own mental well-being.

Surrounded by family, friends, and community representatives, the graduation ceremony was held at the Whitfield County Courthouse. Superior Court Judge Scott Minter commended Bailey's significant progress and expressed confidence in her ability to continue thriving in the future.

Reflecting on her transformative journey, Bailey shared, "When I first entered this program, I felt worthless. Today, my life is very positive, and I have completed goals that I set for myself while in this program."

Bailey was presented with a certificate of completion, acknowledging her unwavering commitment and efforts. The Conasauga Mental Health Court extends heartfelt congratulations to Ms. Bailey on her program completion and wishes her success in all her future endeavors.
